Applications:

Zhenhua Oud Fragrance Oil, with its deep woody aroma and rich spice layers, has a variety of applications in daily life and industrial production. Whether it is to enhance the home atmosphere or used in product manufacturing, this fragrance is favored for its unique oriental charm.

Application in daily life

Home fragrance: Zhenhua Oud Fragrance Oil is used to make scented candles, air fresheners and diffusers, which can add a warm and calm atmosphere to the home environment and bring a comfortable home experience.

Personal care: This fragrance is common in perfumes, shower gels, lotions and other products. The noble fragrance of ebony adds a natural and elegant touch to daily care products. It is suitable for daily or specific occasions to enhance self-charm.

Clothing care: Using Zhenhua Oud Fragrance Oil in fabric softeners and fabric sprays can give clothes a lasting fresh fragrance, allowing users to enjoy the natural fragrance of ebony when wearing them.

Application in industrial production

Fragrance and fragrance manufacturing: Zhenhua Oud Fragrance Oil is widely used in perfumes, daily chemical products, air fresheners and other fields due to its stable odor characteristics and deep fragrance. It is the basic material for many high-end perfumes and fragrance products.

Cleaning products: Because the aroma of ebony gives people a clean and natural feeling, Zhenhua Oud Fragrance Oil is often used in cleaning products such as floor cleaners, hand sanitizers, etc., which can provide a lasting fragrance experience and enhance the product grade.

Textile and leather industry: The unique depth and elegance of the aroma of ebony make it suitable for the processing of textiles and leather products, adding more high-end fragrance options to these products, and is widely used in high-end clothing and leather brands.
