Product Features:

Essential oils for oral are time-tested treasures gaining new popularity among fans everywhere. These potent liquids are fun and fresh ingredients that you can customize for almost any oral hygiene need. Those in the natural health field are concerned that dangerous chemicals in conventional health products may hinder natural bodily functions, especially the endocrine system. The attraction to using essential oils in dentistry is that they may not pose such a risk to the body. Cinnamon, peppermint, spearmint, myrrh, clove, and tea tree essential oils are all believed to be antimicrobial, which means they kill germs that cause pain, disease, and decay. Myrrh oil may also soothe and heal gums by increasing blood flow to the tissue, and clove oil may aid in numbing pain.

Top Notes:

Bright and Sweet Mint: The fragrance opens with a burst of clean, sweet mintiness, offering an immediate sense of freshness. The top note is less sharp than peppermint, making spearmint gentler and sweeter, with a more rounded mint aroma.

Heart Notes:

Green and Herbal: As the fragrance settles, a subtle herbal and green quality emerges, adding depth to the minty sweetness. This evokes the essence of fresh spearmint leaves, grounding the scent with a natural, leafy feel.

Base Notes:

Soft and Slightly Earthy: The base notes are soft and mildly earthy, ensuring the scent has a pleasant longevity. This grounding quality balances the bright top notes and provides a gentle finish.

Overall Impression

Refreshing and Invigorating: Spearmint fragrance oil is highly refreshing and can instantly uplift any environment. Its cool minty scent is ideal for promoting alertness and mental clarity.

Sweet and Gentle: Unlike the sharper peppermint, spearmint is sweeter and softer, making it universally appealing and suitable for a variety of applications.

Versatile for Blending: Its balanced profile makes it ideal for blending with other scents like lavender, citrus, or eucalyptus to create custom, invigorating fragrance combinations.

Uses

Home Fragrance: Perfect for diffusers, candles, and room sprays, adding a clean and fresh aroma to living spaces, kitchens, or bathrooms.

Personal Care Products: Commonly used in soaps, lotions, and bath products for a refreshing, spa-like effect that invigorates the senses.

Aromatherapy: Spearmint's cooling, soothing properties make it ideal for aromatherapy, where it can promote relaxation and focus without the intensity of stronger mints.
