Product Description

Wintergreen Flavoring Base 5KGS/Barrel For Toothpaste LDZ-PL90011

Product Descriptions:

Comperation Between Fragrance and Fragrance Base
Fragrance	Flavoring Base	Example to help understand
a mixture, a mixture of more than two or even dozens or hundreds of fragrance raw materials artificially formulated. It is a mixture of fragrance raw materials with a certain fragrance.	There are generally two understandings of Flavoring base One refers to the essence with a unique fragrance, that is, the fragrance base is also a mixture of multiple fragrance raw materials. The second refers to the fragrance base formula used for confidential formulas, that is, the formula.	Fragrance is likened to an assembled car Then the fragrance raw materials refer to the screws, fenders, windshields, etc. used to assemble the car The fragrance base refers to the entire engine, the entire frame, the entire chassis, etc. of the car

Product Feature:

Wintergreen essential oil (also known as Ilex or Gaultheria procumbens) is known for its rich aroma and its analgesic and anti-inflammatory properties, thanks to its high content of methyl salicylate. This compound has similar effects to aspirin, making the oil effective for relieving muscle pain and inflammation. NATURAL PAIN RELIEF: Its methyl salicylate content makes it an effective analgesic. It is ideal for relieving muscle, joint, and tendon pain. It is often used in therapeutic and sports massage to relieve localized pain.

Efficacy & Applications (Wintergreen (Holly )essential oil ):

Holly essential oil is aromatic, refreshing and cool and sweet, and has extensive medicinal value among North American plateau plants. Centuries ago, Indians knew how to use fever, joint pain and general pain symptoms by chewing holly leaves or making tea. In the early twentieth century, a French pharmacist became famous for selling a holly wood remedy for various joint and muscle pains. In the East, there must also be a holly wood component in a variety of prescriptions for bruises and rheumatism and blood circulation popular among the people.

The fragrance of holly essential oil is very familiar when you smell it, because all the patent medicines related to muscle aches and muscle pain outside are also this cool, sweet herbal scent. In fact, holly wood is also an important soothing agent for rheumatic pain and muscle pain. Methyl salicylic acid, has astringent, diuretic, anti-inflammatory, anti-inflammatory, stimulating effects, so folk have long used containing holly extract essential oil ingredients as an important source of folk therapy. In addition to the scent of holly wood that can often be smelled in medicines to relieve muscle soreness and teeth, the scent of holly wood can sometimes be found in toothpaste, chewing gum, sasha drinks or other hygiene products.
