Pure Pomegranate Noir Fragrance Essence For Perfume Making With Free Sample

LDZ-PL10035

Product Description:

Our Pomegranate Noir Fragrance Essence is a concentrated aromatic material crafted for perfume making, inspired by the iconic scent. It presents a complex interplay of vibrant fruity top notes, including juicy pomegranate, often with rhubarb, raspberry, and plum, sometimes touched by bergamot or tangerine. The heart unfolds with warm spices like pink pepper and clove, intertwined with opulent florals such as Casablanca lily, rose, and jasmine, potentially enriched by smoky resins like guaiac wood and olibanum. The base provides a lasting impression with woody notes of cedarwood and guaiac wood, earthy patchouli, and warm amber and musk, occasionally with hints of vanilla or leather.

Product Feature:

This highly concentrated essence offers excellent tenacity and a well-defined scent profile, serving as a robust foundation for your unique perfume creations. It requires dilution in perfumer's alcohol to achieve the desired fragrance strength (EDP, EDT, EDC). Its rich and multifaceted nature allows for the creation of captivating and long-lasting perfumes. Whether you aim to replicate the classic allure or build upon its complexity with your own artistic touches, this essence provides a premium starting point for your perfumery endeavors.

Pomegranate Noir Fragrance Essence for perfume making is a concentrated aromatic blend designed to replicate the complex scent profile of the popular fragrance, offering perfumers a foundation for their creations. Unlike ready-to-wear perfumes, this essence is a raw material requiring dilution in perfumer's alcohol to achieve the desired strength. Technical parameters focus on its concentrated nature, solubility in alcohol, and detailed odor profile encompassing fruity (pomegranate, berries), spicy (pink pepper, clove), floral (lily, rose), and woody-resinous (cedarwood, amber) notes.

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

Pomegranate Noir Fragrance Essence is a highly concentrated aromatic material primarily designed for perfume creation. It serves as a foundational building block, offering a rich and complex scent profile inspired by the popular fragrance, characterized by fruity (pomegranate, berries), spicy (pink pepper, clove), floral (lily, rose), and woody-resinous (cedarwood, amber) notes.

Its main application involves dilution in perfumer's alcohol to create various perfume concentrations (EDP, EDT, EDC). Perfumers utilize this essence as a core accord, modifying and enhancing it with other aromatic ingredients to craft unique interpretations or build complex fragrance structures.

While its primary use is in fine fragrance, the appealing scent can theoretically extend to other scented products like body care, and potentially (with caution and strict adherence to IFRA guidelines) home fragrance and soap making. However, dedicated fragrance oils are often preferred for optimal performance in non-perfume applications.

Key to its application is proper dilution, strict adherence to IFRA safety guidelines for the intended product category, and thorough testing for optimal scent throw, longevity, and compatibility with other ingredients. This essence provides perfumers with a potent and versatile ingredient to create captivating and personalized fragrances.
