Product Description

Skin Friendly Rose Fragrance Essence For Shower gel & Soap Fast Delivery LDZ-PL20032

Product Description:

We are well versed in the art of fragrance and cleansing, and have created Rose Fragrance Essence Shower Gel and Soap to bring the pure fragrance of roses into your daily cleansing ritual. This is more than just a simple cleaning product, it is the perfect combination of high-quality fragrance and gentle skin care concepts.

We select the top rose absolute or highly active rose extracts from premium production areas around the world, and use advanced low-temperature extraction technology to retain the purity, freshness and multi-layered aroma of rose petals to the greatest extent. This allows our products to present not a single, flat rose scent, but a combination of the freshness of the first bloom, the richness of the full bloom and the gentleness of the aftertaste, and even cleverly incorporates the green leaves or slightly sweet fruity aroma to create a full and vibrant rose fragrance.

Product Feature:

The core of this shower gel rose fragrance is to provide a pure, multi-layered and long-lasting olfactory feast. It goes beyond simple cleansing and aims to elevate daily bathing into a luxurious experience of sensory pleasure and emotional relaxation. Its most notable feature is the restoration of a real, full rose fragrance, rather than a flat, synthetic scent. High-quality essences can capture the nuances of roses from bud to full bloom, and cleverly blend into the green leaves, dew or slightly sweet fruity scent to create a rich and three-dimensional fragrance dimension. This ensures that the fragrance is fully released during bathing and stays on the skin for a long time after washing, creating a lasting body fragrance, while filling the bathroom with a charming fragrance, bringing an immersive SPA experience.

Technical Parameter:

In addition to its excellent fragrance performance, rose essence is often combined with a mild and skin-friendly cleansing base to ensure that it does not irritate the skin while cleaning. Many products also incorporate nourishing ingredients such as rose extracts to exert the rose's anti-inflammatory, soothing, and moisturizing effects, making the skin smooth and moisturized after washing. This combination of fragrance and skin care gives the product a high-end and ritual feel, satisfying consumers' pursuit of quality life and self-pampering, making rose essence a classic and timeless symbol of luxury.

Core aroma information
Top Notes	Lively and fresh aroma (such as citrus, green leaves).
Middle Notes	Core rose scents (such as Damascus rose and tea rose) are full and elegant.
Base Notes	Deep, lasting base notes (such as musk, amber, wood) provide stability and richness.
Dosage	In compliance with IFRA (International Fragrance Association) safety standards, rinse-off products usually contain 3% - 10% to ensure safe use.
Flash point	It measures the lowest temperature at which the flavor evaporates and is ignited, usually above 60°C - 100°C, and is related to production safety.
Stability	pH stability: The aroma remains unchanged at different pH levels. Light/heat stability: Resists light and temperature changes to prevent aroma deterioration. Effect on the product: Does not cause product color or texture changes.
Compatibility	Good compatibility with bath product base ingredients (such as surfactants, thickeners) without causing adverse reactions.

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

The application of rose essence in bath products is mainly to provide an immersive sensory feast that goes beyond basic cleansing, and thereby build a unique differentiated advantage.

Its most significant application is to enhance the daily bathing experience to the extreme. Rose essence is released instantly when it meets water, quickly filling the bathroom, transforming the ordinary clean moment into a private aromatic SPA. This application is not simply to increase fragrance, but to accurately trigger the user's emotional resonance through pure, multi-layered rose fragrance - whether it is to relieve fatigue, relieve stress, or create a romantic atmosphere, the essence can serve as an emotional medium, allowing users to gain deep relaxation and pleasure in the bath, forming a strong emotional connection.

What is even more differentiated is that the application of rose essence in bath products makes it the perfect starting point for personal fragrance layering. The light rose fragrance left on the skin after washing forms a natural, skin-friendly "fragrance foundation". This foundation is perfectly integrated with the subsequent use of the same series of perfume or body lotion, which not only prolongs the durability of the overall fragrance, but also increases the layering and uniqueness of the fragrance, helping users create a highly recognizable exclusive olfactory imprint rather than a single, easily forgotten fragrance. This application upgrades bath products from auxiliary products to an indispensable cornerstone of personal fragrance rituals.
