Product Description

Pure Sandalwood Fragrance Essence For Shampoo Shower gel & Soap Fast Delivery LDZ-PL20040

Product Description:

Our sandalwood shampoo fragrance goes beyond traditional fragrances and injects a unique soul into your products. We are well aware of consumers' ultimate pursuit of sensory experience, so this fragrance not only restores the warm wood and soft frankincense of pure sandalwood, but also incorporates a unique oriental Zen.

Common sandalwood fragrances on the market are either too strong or lack layers. Our formula has achieved a breakthrough in the release of fragrance layers: the first smell is the elegant new green of sandalwood, which gradually enters the core of shampooing, and after washing, it leaves a subtle sweetness lingering in the hair, as if you are in an ancient temple, and your mind becomes peaceful. This subtle change of top, middle and base notes gives the shampoo richer vitality, making every wash and care a journey of body and mind purification.

Product Feature:

Our sandalwood shampoo fragrance redefines the boundaries of shampoo fragrance, aiming to inject unparalleled sensory depth and market competitiveness into your products.

Different from the traditional monotonous fragrance, we have created a unique layered release technology. The first contact is the fresh woody scent unique to sandalwood; when shampooing, the mellow and warm middle notes unfold layer by layer, releasing a calm and tranquil exotic charm; after rinsing, the hair is left with a distant and lasting frank sweetness, just like walking in an ancient temple, bringing a healing experience of mind and body. This subtle change of top, middle and base notes gives shampoo a unique vitality, sublimating daily washing and care into an immersive fragrance journey.

We introduce advanced microcapsule sustained release technology to ensure that the fragrance molecules can be evenly and firmly attached to the hair. Even after rinsing, the charming fragrance can still linger for a long time, completely solving the pain point of easy dissipation of fragrance, allowing consumers to enjoy luxurious fragrance all day long. In addition, this fragrance is perfectly compatible with all kinds of shampoo bases, does not affect the foam or stability of the product, but can significantly enhance the overall texture and value. Choosing our sandalwood fragrance, your product will no longer be just a cleaning product, but will become a unique sensory artwork with both aesthetics and healing effects on the market, satisfying consumers' pursuit of high-quality life.

Technical Parameter:

We use microcapsule sustained-release technology to ensure that the fragrance molecules are evenly attached to the hair, and can be released for a long time even after rinsing, saying goodbye to the trouble of fleeting fragrance. In addition, this fragrance is perfectly integrated with the shampoo base, and it will not affect the foam or stability, but will enhance the high-end and uniqueness of the product. Choosing our sandalwood fragrance, your product will no longer be just a cleaning product, but a sensory work of art with both healing and aesthetic value, standing out in the homogenized market and winning the favor of consumers for a high-quality lifestyle.

Sensory and physical and chemical properties:
Appearance	Transparent to light yellow liquid.
Smell	Classic, warm woody sandalwood notes, with soft frankincense and sweet undertones, long-lasting diffusion.

Application performance and stability:
Recommended addition amount	0.1% - 0.5% (w/w) is recommended in shampoo, which can be adjusted as needed.
Thermal stability	The aroma is intact in the high-temperature production process.
pH stability	The aroma is stable and does not decay in the commonly used pH range of shampoo (4.5-7.0).
Light stability	The fragrance is not easy to degrade or fade under daily light.
System compatibility	Compatible with various shampoo ingredients (surfactants, thickeners, etc.) without adverse reactions.

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

Our sandalwood shampoo fragrance breaks through the limitations of traditional fragrances. It not only adds fragrance to the product, but also injects a differentiated soul into your brand and opens a new sensory journey for consumers.

At the application level, we are well aware of the market's desire for a full-link fragrance experience for products. Therefore, this fragrance is not only perfectly suitable for all kinds of shampoo bases, but its unique slow-release properties also make it excellent in conditioners, shower gels, and even high-end hand creams. Imagine that from hair cleaning to hair conditioning, and then to body care, consumers can immerse themselves in a coherent and progressive sandalwood Zen, which is far from an experience closed loop that ordinary fragrances can match. The differentiated advantage is that we accurately capture the modern consumer's pursuit of "body and mind unity". Most fragrances on the market stop at "smelling good", while our sandalwood fragrance can deeply touch the emotional level. It creates not only a fragrance, but also a tranquil, relaxing, and even meditative atmosphere. This makes your product stand out from the same category, sublimating from a single cleaning function to a personal care product with healing value.

We are committed to working closely with your R&D team to provide customized application solutions to ensure the best performance and synergy of the fragrance in your specific product formulation. This is not only to provide raw materials, but also to provide solutions for brand upgrading. Choosing our sandalwood fragrance, you will have a unique selling point that can touch people's hearts and inspire loyalty, truly realizing the high added value and market leadership of the product.
