Product Description

100% Pure Freesia Essence For Diffuser Reed Sticks Scented Candles Free Sample

LDZ-PL30948

Product Description:

Freesia Aromatherapy Reed Diffuser Essence is a unique non-flame fragrance product. It is not just a simple fragrance, but also a model of the perfect fusion of olfactory art and modern life aesthetics. There are many aromatherapy products on the market, and our freesia essence pursues excellence in every detail, aiming to bring you a purer, longer-lasting and more stylish fragrance experience.

Our freesia fragrance is not a simple copy of floral fragrance, but a high-end fragrance carefully created by a team of top international perfumers. It perfectly captures the freshness of dewy freesia in the morning and the warmth of a ray of sunshine. The fragrance is clearly layered, with the freshness of the top notes, the richness of the middle notes and the gentleness of the base notes interweaving, saying goodbye to the thin or chemical fragrance commonly seen on the market, and bringing a more vital fragrance experience.

Product Feature:

This freesia essence is carefully extracted from the natural aroma essence of freesia flowers, presenting its unique pure fragrance of freshness, sweetness and slightly green scent. It is not a common mixed fragrance on the market, and it restores the most authentic vitality and elegance of the flowers.

It combines high-quality aromatherapy essential oils with high-density porous fiber rattan, and uses slow-release technology to ensure that the fragrance can be evenly absorbed by the rattan and continuously and stably emitted, effectively extending the fragrance's retention time, usually for weeks to months, rather than evaporating in a short time.

Technical Parameter:

Fragrance characteristics
Top notes	Crisp pear, melon or lemon for a lively and fresh opening.
Middle notes	Rich freesia, rose, jasmine or white camellia form the core of the scent.
Base notes	Warm amber, patchouli, musk or woody notes give the scent a long and profound base.

Physical and chemical properties
Appearance	transparent or slightly turbid liquid (depending on whether it contains plant extracts).
Density	about 0.85-0.95 g/cm ³
Volatility	medium-high volatility (ensuring that the diffuser stick continues to release fragrance, usually for 4-6 weeks).
pH value	neutral (6.5-7.5, to avoid corrosion of containers or irritation to the skin).

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

With its outstanding fragrance art and versatility, the Freesia Aromatherapy Reed Diffuser Essence transcends the limitations of traditional aromatherapy products and becomes an ideal choice for creating a unique space atmosphere. We not only provide a fragrance, but also strive to provide a high-quality lifestyle solution.

Differentiated applications:

Immersive home fragrance experience: In addition to basic living room and bedroom applications, our Freesia Essence is particularly suitable for creating "fragrance partitions". Create a luxurious SPA feeling in the bathroom, allowing the fragrance to interweave with steam; at the edge of the kitchen or near the trash can, its unique freshness can effectively neutralize daily odors instead of simply covering them up. In the study, it can provide a refreshing but non-irritating background fragrance to help focus. It is not just a fragrance, but also an invisible regulator of home emotions.

Personalized commercial space empowerment: Different from general fragrances, the freshness and high-end feel of Freesia make it a silent endorsement of the brand image. In boutiques, it can enhance the touch and value of goods; in small art galleries or design studios, its literary and artistic atmosphere can inspire creative inspiration. For cafes or yoga studios that focus on customer experience, it can create a "breathing feeling" that allows customers to relax physically and mentally, increasing their stay time and return visit rate. It is no longer a simple deodorant, but a part of the brand identity of the commercial space.
