Product Description

All Day Wear Zara Oriental Fragrance Essence Perfume Making Oil Free Sample LDZ-PL10073

Product Description:

Zara Oriental stands out among many oriental floral fragrances, and its difference lies in its unique balance of sweetness and depth. Unlike many straightforward or overly strong oriental perfumes, Oriental's sweetness is not a simple candy flavor, but a light and soft floral opening through the introduction of freesia and rose. This floral fragrance cleverly dilutes the slight astringency of bergamot, laying a delicate foundation for the subsequent sweetness, avoiding the stereotype of being sweet at first smell.

The core vanilla and caramel are sweet but not greasy. They do not exist in isolation, but are intertwined with the rich jasmine. This combination creates a unique texture that is creamy, smooth, gourmet, and feminine. Many vanilla caramel notes on the market tend to appear too heavy or childish, but Zara Oriental elevates it to a more mature and layered dimension through the addition of jasmine.

The base notes of patchouli and musk are the source of its depth. The earthy and woody scent of patchouli is not rough and smoky, but provides a calm and warm foil, forming a perfect contrast and fusion with caramel and vanilla. This treatment makes the fragrance's aftertaste have both the mystery of oriental notes and the comfort and softness of skin, avoiding an overly heavy sense of oppression.

Product Feature:

The core feature of Zara Oriental Fragrance Oil is its high fidelity to the original perfume, providing high market recognition. It accurately captures the classic oriental floral notes and achieves a unique balance of sweetness and depth.

The fragrance of this fragrance oil is not simply sweet, but a combination of fresh floral notes of freesia and rose and warm gourmand notes of vanilla and caramel, creating a sophisticated and sensual complex scent. The base notes of patchouli and musk bring a lasting and soft depth, avoiding the heaviness of traditional oriental notes, making it more modern and elegant.

As a raw material for perfume making, it shows excellent performance: it has good diffusion and long-lasting fragrance retention, and can be widely used in a variety of product matrices such as alcohol, oil, wax, water, etc., showing strong versatility and stability. In addition, its characteristics derived from best-selling fragrances also give it high market appeal and cost-effectiveness, making it an ideal choice for developing diversified fragrance products.

The difference of Zara Oriental lies in the harmonious coexistence of sweet, floral and deep woody notes, creating a complex fragrance that is both warm and seductive, yet light and elegant. It is not just a simple oriental note, but also a gentleness and confidence tailored for modern women. In perfume making, this means that it provides a complex and charming fragrance template that combines sweetness, floral and calm background.
