Product Description

Skin Friendly Floral Lux Fragrance Pure Oils For Body Wash Products Free Samples

LDZ-PL20028

Product Description:

Floral Lux scented pure oil shower gel goes beyond the traditional cleansing experience. We know that fragrance is not just a smell, but also a carrier of emotions and an expression of personality. Most ordinary shower gels on the market rely on synthetic fragrances, which have a single and volatile fragrance. We uniquely select the first-pressed pure oils of rare flowers from around the world, such as Damascus roses from Bulgaria, Egyptian jasmine and iris roots from Grasse, France, and extract them through low-temperature cold pressing to retain the natural activity and fragrance of the flowers to the greatest extent.

This ultimate pursuit of the source ensures the natural purity and complex layering of Floral Lux fragrances. It is not a single floral scent, but the subtle changes of flowers in different blooming stages, which are slowly released with your body temperature, forming a unique "skin fragrance signature" rather than a fleeting surface smell. More importantly, these pure oils not only give the product an excellent fragrance experience, but also contain natural antioxidants and vitamins, which can provide deep nourishment to the skin while bathing, improve skin elasticity and radiance, which is an inside-out care that ordinary fragrances cannot match. Choosing Floral Lux, you are not only choosing cleansing, but also an immersive natural luxury, a ritual that closely connects the body and mind with nature.

Product Feature:

Our core difference lies in our extreme demands on raw materials and exclusive extraction process. We do not simply add essential oils, but select "essential oil-grade" flowers from specific origins around the world, such as Moroccan orange blossoms picked with dew in the early morning and Indian tuberose picked by hand at night, and use supercritical CO2 extraction technology instead of the common distillation method. This ensures that the molecular structure of the essential oil is more complete and the natural active ingredients are more fully retained, so the fragrance has a deeper vitality and healing potential, rather than a bland imitation.

This persistence in purity and efficacy makes Floral Lux not only feel silky smooth after bathing, but more importantly, it can form a light "fragrance micro-film" on the surface of the skin, continuously releasing the pure fragrance from nature, truly achieving the trio of "cleansing, nourishing, and pleasing the heart". We firmly believe that every bath should be an extraordinary experience in daily life, and Floral Lux was born for this purpose.

Technical Parameter:

Exclusively customized fragrance molecules
Non-generic fragrance	Different from common fragrances in the market, Lux has worked closely with top international perfumers to develop exclusive and complex floral fragrance molecule combinations to ensure that the fragrance cannot be easily copied, forming a strong brand recognition.
Multi-dimensional fragrance evolution	The fragrance design has clear top, middle and bottom notes, so that the fragrance can be slowly released with body temperature and time after bathing, providing a richer and more vital olfactory experience, rather than a single plane of smell.
Innovative fragrance sustained-release technology

Microcapsule encapsulation technology	The core differentiation lies in the use of advanced fragrance microcapsule sustained-release technology. The fragrance molecules are encapsulated by micron-sized capsules, forming an "invisible fragrance film" on the skin and hair.
Friction-triggered release	Different from natural volatilization, the fragrance needs to be gradually released through skin friction, moisture or temperature changes, which greatly prolongs the fragrance retention time on the body surface (up to several hours), subverting the pain point of the fleeting fragrance of traditional cleaning products, and truly realizing "long-lasting fragrance".
High standards of safety and stability
Strict purity and compatibility	Ensure that the fragrance ingredients maintain extreme stability and compatibility in complex formulas (such as surfactant systems, pH values) to avoid turbidity, discoloration or degradation.
Compliance with international regulations	Strictly comply with IFRA standards and major global market regulations, allergen control and toxicology assessment far exceeding the industry average to ensure consumer safety.

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

In the fiercely competitive daily chemical market, the application of floral Lux fragrances is far more than adding a "good smell" to the product. It is also the "invisible driving force" of brand differentiation and emotional connection with consumers. Most of the washing and care products on the market use fragrances at the basic level of "covering odors" or "providing fragrance", and the fragrances tend to be homogenized, lacking depth and recognition.

Floral Lux breaks through tradition and regards fragrances as the cornerstone of building a "personal fragrance wardrobe". We not only choose ready-made floral fragrances, but also cooperate with top international perfumers to exclusively customize "advanced customized fragrances" with complex layers that can evolve with body temperature and time. This makes washing and care products no longer simple cleaning products, but the starting point of an "immersive fragrance experience". For example, the "fragrance microcapsule sustained release technology" contained in some of its classic fragrances ensures that the floral fragrance can burst out from the moment of bathing to the lasting lingering hours after washing, allowing users to exude charm without perfume.

On a deeper level, the application of fragrances of Floral Lux also extends to "lifestyle empowerment". Different floral fragrance series are given unique personalities and scenes, such as "Charming Orchid" symbolizes confidence and sexiness, and "Lotus + Cherry" represents freshness and vitality. Fragrances are not just fragrances, but also an emotional carrier that helps consumers express themselves through smell and define their own attitude towards life. This strategic application of elevating fragrances to "personalized labels" and "emotional resonance tools" is the key difference that makes Floral Lux stand out in the fierce market competition.

The main application range of floral Lux fragrance
