Product Description

Concentrated Good Girl Fragrance Perfume Oils With Free Sample LDZ-PL10188

Product Description:

Carolina Herrera's Good Girl Fragrance Oil is a concentrated interpretation of the complexity of the original EDP, designed for connoisseurs who seek long-lasting fragrance and deep fragrance experience. The core of this fragrance oil lies in its exquisite reconstruction of oriental floral notes, which are enriched by a high concentration of spices.

The top notes kick off with bright almond and refreshing coffee. The diffusion and persistence of these opening notes are taken to a new level in the form of essential oil, making the initial olfactory impression more vivid and lasting. The heart note is the soul of the essential oil. The richness of tuberose, the fragrance of jasmine and the earthy aroma of orris root interweave to show a more saturated and layered floral core. These high-quality natural extracts are fully released in the essential oil base to ensure stability and purity during the development of the fragrance. The base of tonka beans, cocoa and vanilla provides a deep and seductive blend of gourmand and woody notes. The form of the essential oil allows these warm and sexy undertones to fit more closely to the skin, creating a sensory experience that is almost like a "second skin". The addition of amber and musk further enhances the overall sensuality and luxury, making this essential oil not only have excellent fragrance retention, but also achieve perfect balance and depth in the fragrance structure.

Product Feature:

Carolina Herrera Good Girl Fragrance Oil is a concentrated distillation of the original fragrance, with its high concentration of spices showing the outstanding oriental floral gourmand characteristics.

Top Notes	Open with eye-catching almond and rich coffee, which are significantly more diffuse and lasting in the form of essential oil, creating an immediate and distinct bittersweet olfactory experience.
Heart Notes	With the richness of tuberose, the purity of jasmine and the deep earthy aroma of orris root, together to build a full and layered white floral core, showing a more mellow feminine charm.
Base Notes	Brings deep gourmand warmth with its iconic tonka beans, cocoa and vanilla, which blends perfectly with the sensual background of amber and musk. The unique skin-friendly nature of the essential oil allows these base notes to be emitted more persistently, giving the fragrance an alluring and luxurious finish, showing the unique fragrance characteristics of power and softness.

FUNCTIONS & APPLICATIONS

The core function of Carolina Herrera Good Girl Fragrance Oil is to provide an extremely concentrated and long-lasting fragrance experience. Compared with traditional spray perfumes, its oil base ensures a slow release of fragrance and better skin affinity. This highly concentrated formula greatly enhances the fragrance's lasting time and skin-friendly feel, allowing the fragrance to blend with body temperature for a longer time, forming a personalized and deep olfactory imprint. Another important function of essential oils is its excellent fragrance-developing property, which can show the layering and complexity of the fragrance more directly and purely, avoiding the instantaneous stimulation caused by alcohol evaporation, thereby providing a softer and richer fragrance development process. It also has the added benefit of moisturizing and nourishing, keeping the skin smooth while retaining the fragrance.

Good Girl Fragrance Oil has a variety of application scenarios and is flexible. The most direct application is as a personal fragrance, which can be used instead of or superimposed on the same-name Eau de Parfum. Applying it to pulse points (such as wrists, neck, and behind the ears) can maximize its diffusion and fragrance retention effect. Secondly, it can be used for fragrance layering, paired with unscented body lotion or other products in the same series to enhance the depth and durability of the overall fragrance, or to create a unique fragrance combination. For home fragrance, a small amount of essential oil can be dripped into a diffuser stone or waterless aromatherapy machine to create a luxurious and lasting atmosphere in private spaces. In addition, its concentrated nature also makes it an ideal base for high-end customized fragrance products, or for small-scale textile fragrance, giving a refined atmosphere to scarves, linings, etc., but be careful about the amount to avoid staining.
