Product Description

Concentrated Di or Sauvage Fragrance Essence For Perfume Making

LDZ-PL10307

Product Description

The core DNA of the Di or Sauvage fragrance is built around a fresh, spicy, and woody profile, originally composed as an Aromatic Fougere. Sauvage Parfum: Deepens the scent with rich, warm oriental tones, featuring key notes of Mandarin, Tonka Bean (a sweet, powdery vanilla-almond scent), and creamy Sandalwood.

Sauvage Elixir: Is the most unique and concentrated, introducing an intoxicating blend of rich Spices (like Cinnamon and Nutmeg), a "tailor-made" Lavender essence, and a blend of intense, rich woods.

These concentrated essences are designed for maximum longevity and sillage, providing a powerful, multi-layered scent trail.

Fragrance Profile

Top Notes	All concentrations feature a signature burst of Calabrian Bergamot (a vibrant, zesty citrus) and often an array of Peppers (Sichuan, Pink) for a fresh, spicy lift.
Middle Notes	A core of aromatic notes like Lavender and Geranium provides a clean, refined masculinity.
Base Notes	The powerful, recognizable base is anchored by a musky, ambery note--Ambroxan--along with woods like Cedar and Elemi (a resin with a citrus-spicy scent).

Applications

The primary function of the highly concentrated Sauvage essences, such as the Parfum and Elixir, is to deliver a fragrance experience with maximum longevity and depth. In perfumery, a higher concentration of perfume oils compared to alcohol and water allows the scent to last significantly longer on the skin--often 10 to 12+ hours for the Parfum and Elixir. This increased oil content also creates a richer, more nuanced, and complex scent profile, moving beyond the bright freshness of the Eau de Toilette (EDT) and Eau de Parfum (EDP). Sauvage Parfum functions to provide a refined and smoother evolution of the DNA. It intensifies the warm, sensual base notes like vanilla and sandalwood while toning down the initial brightness. Sauvage Elixir functions as a statement-making, powerfully spicy, and woody composition. It is extraordinarily concentrated and introduces unique, dark, and complex notes like rich spices (cinnamon, nutmeg, cardamom) and potent lavender essence, making it a distinct and bolder flanker. Both concentrations offer a superior, more intimate sillage (scent trail) compared to the lighter versions, making them perfect for creating a memorable and sophisticated presence.

Applications and Occasions for Sauvage Parfum & Elixir

Due to their robust performance and richer compositions, the applications and occasions for Sauvage Parfum and Sauvage Elixir are typically reserved for cooler weather and more formal, intimate, or evening settings. Sauvage Parfum is the ideal choice for sophisticated evening wear and cooler seasons (fall and winter). Its deeper, more rounded profile, featuring orange-spice and smooth vanilla/sandalwood, is perfect for date nights, intimate evenings, formal events, and upscale gatherings where a refined, long-lasting, but not overly aggressive scent is desired. Apply only 2-3 sprays to pulse points to avoid oversaturation. Sauvage Elixir is the ultimate statement-making fragrance for special occasions, milestone events, and cold-weather formal wear. Its maximum projection and longevity are best suited for outdoor fall/winter settings or for moments when you need a powerful, complex scent that will make a lasting impression, such as a black-tie event or a grand celebration. A minimalist application of 1-2 sprays is highly recommended, as its potency is legendary. Both are less suitable for high-heat environments or crowded, professional office settings where their intensity may be too much.

Our Advantages

Very Sexy Sea is highly versatile but excels as a Spring and Summer staple due to its refreshing and aquatic-floral character.

Ideal Applications:

- Daytime Wear: Its light, fresh, and non-overpowering nature makes it perfect for everyday use, whether for running errands, casual daytime outings, or office use where a sophisticated but clean scent is desired.
- Warm-Weather Occasions: The scent truly shines in hot weather, embodying the carefree, breezy feeling of a beach vacation, pool party, or outdoor summer event.
- Romantic/Date Nights: Though fresh, the "Very Sexy" branding and warm, woody cedar base give it a seductive quality, making it a good choice for date nights, as it is described as a "romantic fragrance."
- Layering: As an extension of the iconic Very Sexy line, it can be layered with matching fragrance lotions or mists to enhance its richness and maximize its longevity on the skin. Application is best on warm pulse points like the wrists, behind the ears, and the neck.
