Product Description

Flavour & Fragrance Companies Mar Eterna Ramón Béjar Fragrance Oil For Perfume Making / Production With Free Sample

Product Code: LDZ-PL10784

Mar Eterna Ramón Béjar Fragrance Oil is a premium fragrance concentrate created for manufacturers seeking a distinctive marine-inspired signature with refined niche appeal. Rather than presenting a simple aquatic accord, this composition recreates the sensation of standing where the sea meets rugged coastal landscapes, combining transparent freshness with sophisticated depth. The scent unfolds with luminous marine breezes, mineral nuances, and crisp citrus facets that immediately communicate purity and vitality. As the fragrance evolves, elegant white florals and aromatic herbal accents soften the composition, introducing an airy, contemporary character without compromising its clean oceanic identity. The final impression is enriched by creamy sandalwood, dry cedar, soft amber, velvety musk, and subtle moss, creating a smooth, long-lasting trail that feels luxurious and effortlessly modern.

Engineered for professional perfume manufacturing, this high-concentrated fragrance oil demonstrates excellent diffusion, formula compatibility, and stability across a wide range of alcohol-based fragrance applications. It is particularly suitable for Eau de Parfum, Eau de Toilette, extrait de parfum, body mists, fragrance layering products, and bespoke niche perfume collections. Its balanced construction provides impressive longevity while maintaining a fresh, transparent character from the first spray to the final dry-down. Perfect for brands targeting consumers who appreciate understated luxury, coastal elegance, and contemporary perfumery, this fragrance oil delivers an exclusive olfactory experience that bridges the freshness of the ocean with the sophistication of fine woody accords, making it an outstanding choice for premium fragrance development and private-label perfume production.

Fragrance Profile:

Mar Eterna Ramón Béjar Fragrance Oil presents a sophisticated aquatic-floral-woody profile with a clean, airy, and elegant personality. The fragrance is designed to evoke the freshness of ocean air while maintaining the refined depth associated with luxury niche perfumery. Its composition develops smoothly from a crisp, ozonic opening into a delicate floral heart and a warm, long-lasting woody dry-down. The fragrance is suitable for both men and women, offering a modern balance between freshness, softness, and natural elegance. The original scent profile is characterized by ozonic, floral, woody, musky, and mossy facets.

Fragrance Notes	Description
Top Notes (Opening)	Fresh evergreen accords and bright ozonic notes create a cool, transparent opening. These elements provide a breezy, clean sensation reminiscent of fresh sea air, coastal vegetation, and open-water freshness.
Middle Notes (Heart)	Lily of the valley introduces a delicate green floral touch, while orchid adds a smooth, slightly creamy character. Rose brings gentle elegance and soft romantic warmth, making the heart refined rather than overly sweet.
Base Notes (Foundation)	Cedarwood provides a dry, polished structure, while sandalwood contributes a creamy woody texture. Moss adds an earthy, natural dimension, and soft musk creates a smooth, comforting finish. Together, these notes leave a sophisticated, fresh, and enduring scent trail.

Applications & Functions

Mar Eterna Ramón Béjar Fragrance Oil serves as more than a scent ingredient—it functions as a sophisticated olfactory signature that enhances the emotional identity and perceived value of fine fragrance creations. Its carefully balanced marine, floral, and woody accords are designed to produce a seamless scent evolution, allowing each stage of the fragrance to unfold naturally while maintaining remarkable harmony. The concentrate offers excellent diffusion, enabling the fragrance to project elegantly without becoming overpowering, while its refined dry-down creates a memorable and luxurious scent trail.

Beyond fragrance performance, this oil improves formulation consistency by blending smoothly with alcohol-based perfume bases and complementary aromatic materials. Its high concentration allows perfumers to achieve excellent depth and longevity with efficient dosage levels, making it suitable for premium fragrance development. The composition also performs exceptionally well in fragrance layering, adding freshness, transparency, and modern sophistication to custom perfume accords. Inspired by the tranquil beauty of endless coastlines and open horizons, it helps transform ordinary formulations into immersive sensory experiences, making it an ideal choice for luxury brands seeking an elegant, contemporary marine identity with outstanding commercial appeal.

Mar Eterna Ramón Béjar Fragrance Oil is developed for a broad spectrum of premium fragrance applications where freshness, elegance, and lasting performance are essential. It is particularly well suited for manufacturing Eau de Parfum, Eau de Toilette, extrait de parfum, perfume oils, body mists, and fragrance layering collections, delivering a refined marine character with exceptional persistence. Its balanced composition also makes it an excellent choice for bespoke perfumery, private-label fragrance development, and limited-edition niche collections that require a distinctive coastal-inspired signature.

Beyond personal fragrances, this concentrate performs beautifully in high-end scented candles, reed diffusers, luxury room sprays, aroma diffusers, hotel ambient scenting systems, and premium home fragrance collections. The fragrance retains its clean aquatic freshness while introducing subtle floral elegance and sophisticated woody warmth, creating an inviting atmosphere in residential, hospitality, and commercial environments. It can also be incorporated into upscale bath and body products, including shower gels, liquid soaps, body lotions, shampoos, and hair mists, where it provides a refreshing yet luxurious sensory experience. Its versatility allows fragrance houses to build complete lifestyle collections around a unified marine-inspired olfactory theme, strengthening brand recognition and creating a memorable customer experience across multiple product categories.

Industrial Applications
