Product Description

Black Tea Fragrance Scent Fragrance Oil For Shampoo & Scented Soap Making / Productions With Free Sample

Product Code: LDZ-PL20403

Black Tea Fragrance Scent Oil is a refined aromatic essence developed for shampoo, scented soap, and personal-care product manufacturing. Inspired by the deep, elegant character of freshly brewed black tea, this fragrance combines dry tea leaves, subtle citrus brightness, gentle floral nuances, and smooth woody warmth. Its profile is more sophisticated than a simple sweet tea accord, making it suitable for brands seeking a clean yet distinctive fragrance identity.

This fragrance oil is suitable for shampoos, conditioners, scented soaps, liquid soaps, shower gels, body washes, hand washes, bath products, and other fragranced personal-care formulations, subject to application-specific dosage and safety requirements. Its sophisticated character works especially well for spa-inspired, unisex, botanical, premium, and minimalist product concepts.

With its tea-centered character and understated elegance, Black Tea Fragrance Oil can give everyday personal-care products a more distinctive sensory signature while supporting coordinated fragrance collections across multiple product formats.

Fragrance Profile & Characteristics:

T o p N o t e s	The opening features bergamot, lemon zest, fresh tea leaves, and light citrus accords. Bergamot provides a recognizable tea-like brightness, while lemon adds sparkling freshness. The tea-leaf nuance creates a crisp, slightly dry first impression.
Mi d d l e N o t e s	The heart develops around black tea, jasmine, lavender, and soft herbal accords. The black tea accord becomes richer and more prominent, introducing a gently earthy and slightly astringent character. Jasmine adds understated floral elegance, while lavender contributes a clean aromatic dimension without overpowering the tea.
B a s e N o t e s	The dry-down combines cedarwood, sandalwood, amber, vanilla, and white musk. Cedarwood adds dry woody structure, while sandalwood brings creamy smoothness. Amber and vanilla introduce gentle warmth and soften the tea's natural dryness, with white musk leaving a clean, polished finish.

Functions and Applications:

Black Tea Fragrance Oil functions as a sophisticated fragrance ingredient for personal-care formulations that require a clean, elegant, and slightly warm aromatic character. Its main function is to provide a distinctive black-tea scent profile, combining dry tea-leaf nuances with citrus freshness, subtle florals, and smooth woody-musky undertones. This layered structure gives finished products greater olfactory depth than a simple single-note tea fragrance.

As a formulation component, it can serve as a primary fragrance accord, aromatic modifier, or supporting note. Its dry tea character can balance sweeter fruity or floral compositions, while bergamot and citrus facets introduce brightness. Woody and musky elements help create a polished finish and improve the overall sensory continuity of the fragrance.

The essence also contributes to product differentiation and brand positioning. Its refined character is well suited to premium, minimalist, botanical, spa-inspired, and unisex concepts. Perfumers can further customize it with green tea, jasmine, lavender, citrus, vanilla, sandalwood, or amber to develop different sensory directions.

Overall, Black Tea Fragrance Oil helps enhance the freshness, sophistication, aromatic complexity, and recognizable identity of shampoos, soaps, shower products, and other fragranced personal-care formulations.

Applications:

Black Tea Fragrance Oil is primarily applied in personal-care and cleansing product manufacturing, particularly for products seeking a refined, aromatic, and contemporary scent identity. It is suitable for shampoos, conditioners, scented soaps, liquid soaps, shower gels, body washes, hand washes, bath products, cleansing creams, and other fragranced personal-care formulations, subject to appropriate dosage and application-specific safety requirements.

Its elegant tea character makes it particularly suitable for premium, unisex, spa-inspired, botanical, wellness, and minimalist product collections. Manufacturers can use the fragrance across coordinated product ranges, such as matching shampoo, shower gel, soap, and body wash products, creating a consistent sensory identity.

For commercial development, the essence can also be incorporated into private-label personal-care brands, boutique collections, hotel and spa amenities, gift sets, seasonal launches, and OEM/ODM customized projects. It can be blended with bergamot, lemon, green tea, jasmine, lavender, cedarwood, sandalwood, vanilla, amber, or white musk to create differentiated variations.

Its versatility allows manufacturers to develop products ranging from fresh and invigorating morning-care concepts to warm, luxurious spa-inspired formulations, making Black Tea Fragrance Oil a practical choice for brands seeking a distinctive tea-based fragrance theme.
