Product Description

Daily Fragrance Oil Sospiro Accento Fragrance Oil For Perfume Making/Production With Free Sample Concentrated Perfume

Product Code: LDZ-PL10381

Daily Fragrance Oil Sospiro Accento Fragrance Oil is a refined fragrance oil created for perfume makers seeking a distinctive composition with an elegant, artistic presence. Rather than relying on a simple linear scent impression, this fragrance is designed to reveal different facets as it develops on the skin, creating a more dimensional olfactory journey from the first spray to the lingering dry-down. Its character combines a polished fruity brightness with sophisticated floral softness and a rounded, velvety foundation, giving the overall composition an expressive yet well-balanced personality.

The opening delivers a vibrant, subtly sweet impression that immediately adds energy and sophistication. As the fragrance settles, a smooth floral character becomes more apparent, bringing delicacy and a touch of modern luxury without becoming overly heavy. Gradually, the composition moves toward a deeper base with creamy, warm, and gently musky nuances, leaving a comfortable trail that feels polished and memorable.

Ideal for perfume making, private-label fragrances, body perfumes, perfume oils, and customized scent collections, this fragrance oil provides formulators with a versatile foundation for developing premium fragrance concepts. It can work particularly well in collections designed around elegance, individuality, and contemporary niche-perfumery aesthetics. Its layered character also gives brands room to build their own storytelling, packaging concepts, and signature positioning around the finished perfume.

Fragrance Profile:

| Fragrance Notes         | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Top Notes (Opening)     | The fragrance opens with a lively combination of pineapple, hyacinth, and subtle citrus nuances. The initial impression is bright and slightly fruity, with a sparkling quality that gives the composition an energetic and sophisticated introduction.                                                   |
| Middle Notes (Heart)    | As the opening settles, the heart reveals jasmine, iris, and pink pepper accents. The floral character is smooth and elegant rather than overly sweet, while the gentle spiciness adds contrast and personality. This stage creates a refined transition between the vibrant opening and the deeper base. |
| Base Notes (Foundation) | The dry-down becomes warmer and more enveloping, featuring amber, musk, vanilla, and creamy woody nuances. These elements provide softness, persistence, and a polished finish, leaving a subtle yet distinctive fragrance trail.                                                                         |

Applications & Functions:

Sospiro Accento Fragrance Oil functions primarily as an olfactory enhancement and signature-building ingredient in fine-fragrance formulations. Its layered character helps give a perfume greater personality by connecting a lively fruity opening with a sophisticated floral heart and a smooth, warm dry-down. Rather than simply adding sweetness or freshness, it can contribute contrast, depth, and a more recognizable scent identity to the finished product. The fragrance oil can also support the development of premium positioning, making it suitable for perfume concepts centered on elegance, individuality, and modern luxury. During formulation, it provides perfumers with a versatile aromatic foundation that can be adjusted in intensity according to the desired product style. It may also be blended with complementary fragrance materials to create customized variations, signature accords, or differentiated private-label collections. When properly incorporated, its evolving scent character can improve the overall sensory experience and help a finished perfume leave a memorable aromatic impression. Actual performance, stability, and dosage should always be confirmed through formulation trials and applicable fragrance-safety guidelines.

Sospiro Accento Fragrance Oil is primarily intended for fine-fragrance manufacturing and customized perfume development. It can be incorporated into Eau de Parfum, Eau de Toilette, perfume oils, body fragrances, and other alcohol- or oil-based scent products, subject to compatibility and regulatory evaluation. Its sophisticated, multi-stage character makes it especially appropriate for premium collections where the fragrance itself is an important part of the brand story. Perfumers can use it as a central accord or combine it with additional fruity, floral, woody, amber, or musky materials to develop a more individualized composition. For private-label manufacturers, it can serve as a practical starting point for creating perfumes with a polished niche-inspired direction. It is also suitable for seasonal launches, gift-oriented fragrance sets, boutique perfume ranges, and everyday luxury concepts. Depending on the final formulation, concentration can be adjusted to create different olfactory strengths and consumer experiences. Before commercial production, manufacturers should conduct compatibility, stability, and skin-safety assessments and follow the relevant IFRA recommendations for the intended product category.
