Inspired by the quiet atmosphere of a flourishing garden, this fragrance combines delicate green nuances with soft floral accords and subtle earthy warmth, creating an aromatic experience that feels refreshing yet comforting. Its understated character offers an alternative to conventional fruity or intensely sweet cleansing fragrances.

The fragrance opens with crisp green notes and a light herbal impression, evoking fresh leaves and the peaceful character of a garden after morning dew. As the scent develops, delicate floral nuances introduce softness, while subtle woody and earthy facets add depth and individuality. A smooth, clean finish rounds out the composition, making it suitable for everyday personal-care products.

Developed for professional fragrance formulation, Sophora Root (Little Dream Garden) Fragrance Oil can be evaluated for use in shower gels, shampoos, liquid soaps, and scented soap bars, subject to compatibility and safety testing. For manufacturers, it provides a versatile foundation for coordinated cleansing products, customized fragrance development, and private-label projects seeking a distinctive green aromatic identity.

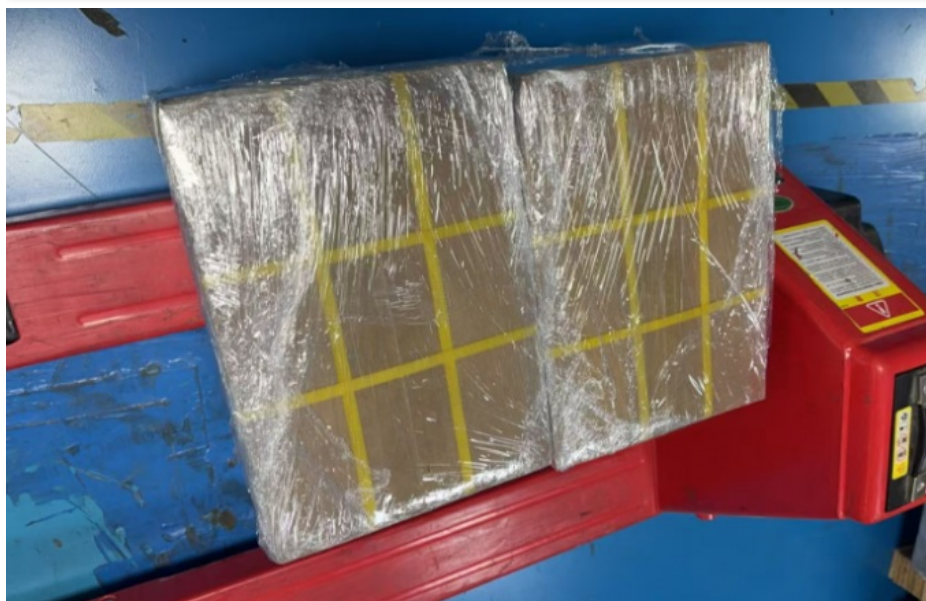

PLAN

Fragrance Profile & Characteristics:

Top notes	The fragrance opens with crisp green leaves, fresh herbal nuances, and a subtle dewy impression. Rather than delivering a sharp citrus burst, the opening emphasizes the natural freshness of young vegetation, creating a clean and distinctive introduction suitable for daily cleansing products.
Middle notes	As the fragrance unfolds, gentle botanical accords blend with delicate floral touches and mild earthy nuances. The heart evokes the peaceful atmosphere of a secluded garden, offering a soft, natural character that feels understated rather than intensely perfumed. These notes give the composition its individual identity and distinguish it from conventional sweet or fruity personal-care fragrances.
Base notes	The dry-down develops into a smooth combination of soft woods, subtle musk, and warm earthy undertones. These elements add depth and roundness while preserving the fragrance's fresh, botanical character. The overall scent balances leafy freshness with herbal elegance and a quietly comforting finish, making it suitable for shower gels, shampoos, and scented soaps designed around nature-inspired simplicity.

Inspired by the understated beauty of a secluded garden, this composition emphasizes green freshness, delicate herbal nuances, and a subtle earthy character, creating a clean yet characterful scent identity for modern cleansing products.

The opening introduces a crisp, leafy impression with gentle herbal accents, evoking the freshness of newly grown plants. Unlike fragrances dominated by sparkling citrus, this opening feels greener and more natural. As the scent develops, soft floral nuances blend with mild woody undertones, creating a balanced middle character that feels tranquil rather than overtly perfumed. A smooth, clean finish rounds out the fragrance, giving it a quiet sophistication suitable for everyday personal-care routines.

What sets this fragrance apart is its botanical character and understated aromatic profile. It can help brands develop cleansing products positioned around nature-inspired freshness, modern simplicity, and a refined sensory experience. Suitable for evaluation in shower gels, shampoos, liquid soaps, and scented soap bars, the essence offers flexibility for coordinated product collections and customized fragrance development, subject to formulation compatibility and applicable safety requirements.

For OEM/ODM manufacturers and private-label brands, Sophora Root (Little Dream Garden) provides an alternative to crowded sweet-fruity fragrance categories, helping create a more distinctive botanical identity for contemporary personal-care ranges.
